THE DIFFERENCE.

From the Waverly Magazine.

LINES TO * * ("A BIRD IN THE BUSH.")

There is a hand of lily white,
Which I would clasp in rapturous love;
There is a form whose step is light,
As that of angel forms above.

There is a cheek of richer glow,
And finer tint than Sharon's rose;
There is a bosom white as snow,
On which I'd love to long repose.

There is a voice whose tender notes
Thrill to my heart with magic power,
Like lyre's note that sweetly floats,
On the soft breeze at evening hour.

I would that hand, that form, that cheek,
Were all for me, for me alone;
No greater, holier joy I'd seek
Than, but, to call thee all my own.

EDMONS.

For the Altoona Tribune.

LINES TO * * ("A BIRD IN THE HAND.")

There is a hand not quite so fair,
Nor colorless as the "lily white;"
Whose, fond, warm press does not excite
To "rapturous love." Its gentle welcome
Gives a proof of calmer love
That knows no change—
Of love that's all for me.

"There is a form whose step is light,"
But not as steps of angels are:—
It hath a sound—'tis firm,
And gentle too; and falls upon
My ear like pleasant greetings.
Although 'tis but a mortals step
It tells of love—
Of love for me alone.

There is a cheek of glow less rich,
And tint less fine than Sharon's rose;—
But it has a beauteous, healthful hue
That nature painted there; and oft'
With gentle blushes 'tis suffused,
That tell of love—
Of love that's all my own.

There is a voice I'd rather hear
Than lyre's sweetest melody
On evening breezes borne;—
'Tis tuned to love—
To love that's all for me.

There is a bosom that is fair,
But 'tis not "white as snow"—not pallid
As the shrond that Nature wraps
Earth's beauties in, when they are dead.
No stormy passions o'er it sweep;
Nor cheerless feelings chill with woe.
Fond affection keeps it warm;
And on it I may long repose,
And listen to sweet songs of love—
Of love for me alone.

If that hand was "lily white;"
That form an angel's form; and step
A noiseless step; that "cheek
Of richer glow, and finer tint
Than Sharon's rose," and "bosom
White as snow"—that voice
"Like lyre's note, on soft breeze borne;"—
There'd be no hand to clasp my own!
No form to linger by my side!
No step to chord with mine!
No bosom where I might repose!
No voice to tell of love like hers!
Of love that's all my own.

I know that hand, that form, that cheek,
Are all for me, for me alone;
Though "greater, holier joys" I seek,
Still I call her all my own.

Select Miscellany.

High old Justice.

A certain Capt. Baculard left Marseilles for China; but, being buffeted by the winds, he landed at the harbor of Tunis to wait fair weather. The collector of the port came on board. Captain Baculard represented that he was freighted for Canton, that he had nothing to do with Tunis, and that he only put in from stress of weather. But the collector presented the manifest that he must fork over.—Capt. Baculard did fork over, in rage; but instantly repaired to the residence of the Bey, demanding justice.

'God Frank,' said the Bey, 'I am your friend, God is great. What the plague do you want with me?'

'Highness,' answered Captain Baculard, 'your custom house has robbed me. I have forked over; fork back.'

'Excellent individual,' answered the Bey, 'in this country, when we have the dust, we keep it. The original acquisition is a thing of difficulty. To fork back is a thing unknown in Africa.'

'But shall I not have justice?'

'Certainly: every one has justice in Tunis. Will you have it in the French or Tunisian fashion?'

'Highness, I have had a law suit or two in France. Justice in the French fashion, God forbid?'

'But I don't press it on you,' observed the Bey. 'If you choose the French, after all, speak to your consul. He loves justice, good man. Three of my subjects applied to him three years ago for immunity, and they may, possibly, get it next year—for he loves justice.'

'French justice? Never! Give me Tunisian; I am in a great hurry.'

Be it so then. God is great. What is your cargo?'

Marseilles soap and twenty thousand cotton caps.'

'It is well. Go away and be tranquil.' The Bey summoned the Vizier.

'Vizier,' said he, "there is no God but God, and Mohammed is his prophet.—We love justice. We love the Franks.—Proclaim that every Jew who appears to-morrow, out of doors, without a cotton cap, will have a little transaction to settle with me.

There were twenty thousand Jews in Tunis, and not one single cotton cap in the place. They all made their wills—when they learned through the officer of the customs, that Captain Baculard had lots of the desired article. There was enough said. Captain Baculard sold his invoice at two dollars the cap. He hastened to the palace and poured out his thanks.

'Not so fast,' said the Bey, 'I am not done yet. Call my Vizier.' The Vizier appeared. 'Proclaim,' said the Bey, 'that every Jew who keeps a cap another hour, will have trouble with me. God is great, and I am a lineal descendent of Mohammed.

The Vizier made a grand salute, placing his leg on the back of his neck, according to the custom of the court, and retired. When Captain Baculard returned to the deck, he found the twenty thousand Jews already awaiting him, caps in hand. He might have had the caps for nothing, but, desirous to leave behind him a name for generosity and greatness of soul, he bought them at two cents a piece.

Remarkable Fountain in Florida.

Taking a narrow path we crossed through some dense underwood, and, all at once, stood on the banks of the Wakulla Spring. There was a basin of water one hundred yards in diameter, almost circular. The thick bushes were almost growing to the water's edge, and bowing their heads under the unrippled surface. We stepped into a skiff and pushed off. Some immense fishes attracted my attention, and I seized a spear to strike them. The boatman laughed, and asked me how far beneath the surface I supposed they were. I answered about four feet. He assured me they were at least twenty feet from me; and it was so. The water is of the most wonderful transparency. Dropping an ordinary pin in the water—forty feet deep—we saw its head with perfect distinctness as it lay on the bottom. As we approached the centre I noticed a jagged, grayish limestone rock beneath us pierced with holes; one seemed to look into unfathomable depths. The boat moved slowly on, and we hung trembling over the edge of the sunken cliff, and far below it lay a dark, yawning, unfathomable abyss. From its gorge comes forth with immense velocity a living river. Pushing on just beyond its mouth I dropped a ten-cent piece into the water, which is there one hundred and ninety feet in depth, and I clearly saw it shining on the bottom.—This seems incredible. I think the water possesses a magnifying power, for I am confident that the piece could not be seen so distinctly from a tower one hundred and ninety feet high. We rowed toward the north side, and suddenly we perceived in the water fish, which were darting hither and thither, and long, flexible roots, luxurient grass on the bottom, all arrayed in the most beautiful prismatic hues. The gentle swell occasioned by the boat gave to the whole an undulating motion.—Death-like stillness reigned around, and a more fairy scene I never beheld.

So great is the quantity of water here poured forth that it forms a river of itself large enough to float flat-boats with cotton. The planter who lives here has thus transported his cotton to St. Marks. Near the fountain we saw some of the remains of a mastodan which had been taken from it. The triangular bone below the knee measured six inches on each side.—Cincinnatus.

Dead-Headed Through.

Conductor Tucker, on the Boston and Maine roads, likes a joke as well as any man. Not long since, a penniless, seedy individual got into the cars at Boston, and when called upon for his ticket, replied that he had none. He was informed that he must get off at the next station. On the arrival at the station his speed was somewhat accelerated from the cars by the assistance of the conductor's boot applied to the back part of his stomach.—On the arrival of the train he seated himself as before, and when waited upon for his ticket, the same answer was given, followed by the same results. The two stations were passed and our traveler found himself waiting the approach of another train, to continue his journey. This being Conductor Tucker's train, he embarked on board, and being asked for his ticket, replied as before, when he was told to get off at the next station. When the train stopped, he walked to the platform, quietly elevating his coat-tail to the conductor. On being asked by the conductor the cause of such an insulting procedure, the traveler informed him that the other two conductors had left the impression of their boots upon his cassimer, and he supposed that he wanted to. The joke was relished so well, that on being informed that he was en route for Portland with no money to purchase a ticket, he was dead-headed thro' the remainder of his journey. —Newburyport Herald.

Reminiscence of School Life.

BY MENDOZA.

We were a precious set of fellows at old Friend Ralph's school some ten years since.

Ralph, our teacher, was a quiet Quaker gentleman, one who loved his pupils and governed them after a manner peculiarly his own. We all loved him, yet our young heads were always filled with mischievous plans for troubling the good old man.

Ralph was a single gentleman, and old Peggy, his housekeeper, ruled with undisputed sway in-door. We all loved good Peggy, too, but her pies we loved still better; and when, for an instant, the little cupboard in the kitchen entry was left a jar, we took advantage of it instanter. Our frequent visits were discovered and reported to old Ralph, who said nothing more than, "Let the young lads eat until it paineth them." And we did eat until Peggy hired the carpenter to put a new lock on the cupboard-door, and our feasting was over.

Three weeks passed away, and one day Peggy made a fine batch of pies. We sighed feelingly as we watched the good dame carefully lock the door, that shut us from the feast. We could not sleep that night while beneath our room lay shelves of pumpkin-pies.

"Jim," said my room-mate, "make haste and dress; we will have a feast yet. An idee has struck me. You know the flooring of our room is rickety, and the closet is just beneath us. Now as there is but a single floor, we can easily lift the boards and get into the closet. You are the lightest—so you must go down and pass up the fixins!" With this information, I prepared to descend into the closet, my chum having lifted, with some trouble, a narrow board in the floor of our chamber. Down I went, safely at first, but an unlucky slip caused me to land on a large pudding which besmeared me in an uncomfortable manner.

"Here, Bill, you thief!" I loudly whispered, as I passed up a pie, "take this one, and stand by for another." But no hand was put out to take the pie, while I thought the door of our room grated upon its hinges. "Bill, you rascal, why don't you take the pie?" whispered I again.—Soon a hand was thrust into my face, and supposing it to be my friend's, I put the pie into the hand. Soon the hand was thrust into my face again. In the highest glee, I cried out:

"You pig! how many pies can you eat?"

"All!" was the low response.

"And you shall have all if they are getable," was my ready response.

"There is not another one down here, Bill," I softly said.

"Then thee mayest come up, James, and we will eat them," was the startling response that came to my ears.

As I crawled out of the cupboard, old Ralph stood before me with the last pie in his hand. Beside him, trembling, stood my chum, and I discovered to my shame that I had passed up all the pies, not to my room mate, but to my teacher, Ralph. —Boston Olive Branch.

A Hard Subject.

An "Old Soaker," who lives in Weston, Missouri, took it into his head, and very sensibly, too, that it was about time for him to be considering his probable future condition, and forthwith repaired to the Rev. Mr. B., the respected pastor of the Baptist denomination of the town aforesaid, to obtain light. He was received with urbanity, and forthwith the following dialogue ensued:

Old S.—It's your doctrine, boss, that a feller to be saved must suffer immershun, isn't it.

Mr. B.—Yes, Mr. S., it is a fundamental doctrine of our church, that a man to be regenerated must repent of his sins, and be immersed.

Old S.—Well, boss, after repentin' of his sins, and bein' slid under, if he flashes in the pan, then what?

Mr. B.—Although backsliding is much to be deplored, still, if he sincerely repents of his sins and is again immersed, the church will receive him again.

Old S.—Well, s'pose he a'gin kicks out of the traces after the second time, (for you know what critters there are in this world, boss,) then what's to pay?

Mr. B.—Notwithstanding all this, if he will seriously repent, and solemnly promise to amend his future life, the church will again receive him into its bosom, after being immersed.

Old S., (after a few moments of deep thought) proposes the closing interrogatory—Well, boss, wouldn't it be a blasted good idea to keep sich fellers in soak all the time?

Our informant did not say whether old S. joined the church or not, but we incline to the opinion that if he did, the chances were pretty good or his being "kept in soak all the time."

Mammoth Hotel.

The New Yorkers are priding themselves upon another hotel structure, and upon which $1,144,000 has already been expended. The following is a brief description of the structure:—The building covers sixteen full lots of ground, is seven stories high, and has an elevation from the cellar to the roof of 106 feet. The front on Fifth avenue and Broadway is 202 feet; on Twenty-third street 215 feet, and Twenty-fourth 196 feet. It is capable of accommodating at least 800 guests. There are 8 large public parlors, 120 private do.; 4 dining and tea rooms, 420 chambers, and 60 other rooms for servants, &c. Nearly all the principal chambers have baths and water arrangements complete, there being fully 100 baths in all. The heating of the building is done by steam, for which three boilers, each 22 feet in length and nearly 5 feet in diameter are provided. From these the steam is conducted all over the building, the condensed steam being carried back to the boilers by a return flue. The boilers and gas house occupy a distinct building, wholly exterior to the main structure.—To facilate communication between the different stories, a luxurious car or ladies' carriage is provided, which will guide from the lower floor to the uppermost story, easily conveying eight or ten persons a trip. This car is propelled by steam, and passes up and down upon a revolving spiral shaft nearly 100 feet long and about 10 inches in diameter; and so perfect is this invention that under no circumstances is there a possibility of accident. The grand dining hall is 80 feet long, 60 feet wide and 21 feet high, lighted with eleven elegant chandeliers. The whole establishment has been leased for a term of years to Paren Stevens, Esq., proprietor of the Tremont and Revere Houses, Boston, Mass., and will be opened about the 1st of August.

A Stray Yankee's Mistake.

A well dressed Yankee, supposed to be "the Man with the Carpet Bag," as he had one of those useful articles with him, walked into the Seventeenth Ward Station-House on Sunday night, and asked for "lodgins." Capt. Hartt saw that he was rather above the usual class of patrons of his establishment, but supposing he might be hard up, told the doorman to give him a place by himself. Yankee registered his name, in due form, and then turning to the turnkey, said: "Here waiter, take my baggage." The latter, who began to scent a joke, shouldered the carpet bag, and bade the gentleman follow him. On his way down stairs the stranger was conducted through a large room filled with the usual complement of bleareyed women, belated boot-blacks, and greasy loafers, that find their nightly shelter in the Station-house, some of whom audibly remarked that he "put on too many airs for a bummer." Before he could tell what to think of a hotel that accommodated so motley a crew, his conductor swung open one of the grated cell doors, and invited him to step into his apartment. "Waall," he exclaimed, catching his breath with astonishment, "if this ain't the d——dest funniest hotel I ever see—rooms in the cellar, eh! I swan, I think it's a jail, after all, waiter, ain't it?" "No sir;" responded the doorman, with a laugh—"it's a Station-House." "What," screamed the Yankee—"a Fleece Station—by Jeemimi," and seizing his carpet bag amid shouts of laughter, he rushed out at a 2:40 pace, and soon disappeared in the darkness.—N. Y. Tribune.

Peace Declared.

We presume our readers have been looking for other tidings from the other side of the waters than those which they receive this week. They are certainly contrary to all expectations and predictions. What has been gained by the war, to either France, Italy or Sardinia, we can not at present discover, other than the glory of conquest attained by the French. The New York Tribune in commenting upon the treaty, says:—"The Italian war is over. On the 8th inst. an armistice was, to the surprise of every one, concluded between France and Austria. Three days afterward the two Emperors had an interview which resulted in a peace, of which the conditions would seem to be a death blow to all present hopes of Italian independence. An "Italian Confederation" is to be formed under the "Honorary Presidency" of the Pope: the King of Sardinia, who succeeds to Austria's "rights in Lombardy" is to be one member, and Austria herself, in so far as concerns Venice, which she will retain, another. What rights the members of this "Italian Confederation" are to enjoy, what position the Pope will, as "Honorary President," occupy, whether the condition of the Papal States is to be improved in any respect, whether Venice is any better off than she was before the war, whether the Grand Dukes are to be reinstated, how the King of Naples is to stand—what, in a word, is the full import of this "Italian Confederation," and what part Austrian or French bayonets are henceforth to play in the Peninsula, are questions yet to be answered.

Our sole source of information touching the treaty is a brief telegram from Napoleon. The London Press appears to be much in the dark: the friends of freedom are justly alarmed for the future.

HEAVY STORMS.—A tremendous storm of wind, hail and rain passed over a portion of Philadelphia county on the afternoon of the 20th inst. In the vicinity of Germantown, nearly all the trees, fences and outhouses were blown down and thousands of panes of window glass broken.—The rafters of a new church were blown down and two men who had taken refuge therein, were severely injured. Earlier in the afternoon a furious storm raged on the line of the Little Schuylkill and Cattawissa R. R. A train of cars passing along at the time had all the window glass on the northern side broken, and hail stones conglomerated into masses three or four inches thick were picked up by passengers inside of the cars. The corrugated iron roof of the engine house of the railway company, at Wilmington, was actually pierced by the hail. It is said that no person could have lived if he had been exposed to the violence of the storm.

STONING THE CARS.—Some time since, a number of the numerous rowdies with which Huntingdon is cursed, took it into their heads to stone the Fast Line train, which leaves that station at 10½ o'clock, and posted themselves on the towing-path immediately below the station. Several large sized stones struck the engine, battering it considerably. The train was immediately stopped and the watchmen informed of the proceedings. The rowdies attempted to get out of the way, but failed, and the watchman succeeded in learning their names. They should receive about three years each in the Penitentiary or House of Refuge.

EBENSBURG AND CRESSON R. R.—The work of grading the branch Railroad from Cresson station, on the Pa. R. R., to Ebensburg, has been let to a Mr. Collins, of Cambria county, who commenced work upon it, some time since, with a force of 200 hands. Its early completion is confidently looked for, if the stockholders only properly meet their engagements.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—The next Annual Convention of this Association will be held in West Chester, Chester county, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 2d, 3d, and 4th of August. Arrangements have been made with the railroad companies in Pennsylvania to furnish excursion tickets for half price, good from the 30th of July till the 15th of August, inclusive; thus enabling all teachers who desire to attend the meeting at West Chester, and that of the National Association to be held in Washington City on the following week, ample time to be present at the Conventions.

PENN'A STATE FAIR.—The Pennsylvania Agricultural State Fair will be held at Philadelphia, on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of September next. All the Railroad leading to Philadelphia have agreed to issue excursion tickets to persons wishing to attend the Fair, good from the 25th of September to the 1st of October, inclusive. Articles intended for exhibition—live stock included—will be carried to and from the Fair, over the different R. R. free of charge, provided the articles or stock remain unsold.

THE CROPS IN ILLINOIS.—A letter from Illinois says:—"The wheat harvest has already commenced in southern Illinois, and is better than ever before in that part of the State. The prospect for a good crop of corn in "Egypt" is favorable. Fruit in that region will be abundant. Peaches were injured here by the late frosts, and the insects will probably destroy all that remain. After taking into the accounts all the drawbacks upon the next crops, Illinois will be able to feed all the Eastern States from her surplus.

A Religious Revival in Ireland.

The papers are full of the details of a religious revival now in progress throughout the North of Ireland, similar in its epidemic features to the awakening so general in this country a year ago, and yet it seems to be broadly distinguished from it by greater marks of mental anguish, convictions of sin, and sometimes of fanaticism. In these respects it resembles the great awakening under Whitefield, Wesley and Jonathan Edwards, of New England. The excitement has reached all classes and sects, including the High Churchmen, and to some extent the Catholics. Some of the Irish newspapers belonging to the two sects just referred to, narrate marvellous stories as to the infatuation and fanaticism of the converts.

To show what the evangelical element in Ireland thinks of it, we subjoin an extract from the Presbyterian Magazine as communicated by the correspondent of the American (Phila.) Presbyterian.

"It has taken hold of all denominations of professing Christians; members of the Roman Catholic community have received the gracious visit of mercy. Several cases have occurred; and it is deeply interesting to note, that they love the Bible and cling to Jesus. Members, too, of other communions have been awakened and converted, but chiefly the members of the Presbyterian Church, because they exist in greater numbers. The revival has now extended for miles round the neighborhood. At times, the convictions come in like a flood in a district, and after a while they cease, and break forth with astonishing power in another. As to the numbers that may have come under the influence of this gracious visitation, it is most difficult to speak with accuracy. It may be safely affirmed that they amount to several hundreds; while the good done is not to be confined to those who are decided cases of conviction with its accompaniments. Hundreds more have been greatly revived in the graces, and powerfully quickened in duty. There has been a gracious revival of languishing spiritual affections. The whole tone of society has been solemnized and elevated. In those favored districts where the shower has fallen most copiously, the improvement in the morals and tastes of the community is most remarked, and exceedingly delightful. The common sports of the young men are given up; there is no such thing as cabals for mischief and revelry. The punch-dances have given way to the prayer meetings. On former occasions, such multitudes could not be assembled in Ahoghill, for any purpose whatever, without lamentable scenes following. There is little or no mocking now among those who are conversant with the facts—who have had opportunities of witnessing the deep-toned sincerity, the marvellous change, and the holy fruits in those who were known before as loose, careless, and ungodly. The work is proving itself to be from God. It is filling our churches, it is gladdening our hearts, it is brightning the flame of our zeal, it is giving a solemn intensity to our prayer, it is strengthening our faith, it is multiplying our helpers, and lifting us above the world."

"The visible and legitimate results are as follows: hotels are doing little or no business in selling spirits,—low groggerries are not patronized as formerly, profanity and rioting have almost ceased, the Sabbath is better respected, industry has taken the place of idleness, and cleanliness is oftener seen hand in hand with godliness. Family worship has been instituted where prayer was a stranger, and 'neath scores of thatched roofs the "Psalms of David" are sung with genuine fervor and devotion."

CLOSED.—The Bank of Lawrence county, in this place, on Friday morning last, closed its doors and suspended business. This last misfortune was caused by the failure of certain parties in Cleveland, who were heavily indebted to the Bank. On Tuesday a meeting of the stockholders was held, at which a committee was appointed to investigate the matter and report what was best to be adopted under the circumstances. This committee is to report at an adjourned meeting of the stockholders, to be held on Friday, the 29th of this month. Until this committee report, we do not know that we would be justified in speculating upon the future of the institution, but may say that its position and prospect, to us, look gloomy, indeed.—New Castle Gazette.

IMPORTANT FOREIGN NEWS.

ARMISTICE AGREED UPON.

PEACE DECLARED.

FARTHER POINT BELOW QUEBEC, July 24.—The steamship North Briton, from Liverpool on the 13th inst., bound for Quebec, has been intercepted off this point, and a most important budget of news obtained.

The advices by the North Briton are four days later than those furnished by the steamer Africa, and are of a highly important character, both in a political and financial point of view.

A treaty of peace between Austria, France and Sandinia had already been concluded. The provisions of this treaty are briefly as follows—

An Italian Confederation is to be formed, under the honorary Presidency of the Pope of Rome.

Austria concedes Lombardy to France. Napoleon in turn grants these possessions to Sardinia; Austria retains her right of rule over Venice.

The Steamer left Liverpool before the effect of this news had time to be developed.

The Paris Monituer explains the circumstances attending the armistice. It says the great neutral belligerent Powers offering plans for a mediation, but were unsuccessful in their efforts until the French fleet were about to commence hostilities against Venice, and a conflict before Verona was imminent, when Napoleon, anxious to prevent bloodshed, ascertained the disposition of the Emperor of Austria, and finding him willing, the armistice was concluded. The two Emperors had an interview on the 11th at Villa Franca.

THE ARMISTICE.

A dispatch from Turin says Napoleon has issued a bulletin from Vallegio, announcing the armistice, congratulating the troops on their glorious achievements, and announcing his immediate departure for Paris, leaving the provisional command of the army to Marshal Vaillant.

The London Times claims that England brought about the armistice.

Other authorities give the credit to Prussia.

A Verona telegram says the armistice was concluded only after repeated requests from the French, and after Austria had obtained all she had asked for.

It was reported that Kossuth was to propose a monarchial government for Hungary.

The following is the explanation, given by the Paris Moniteur, of the circumstances attending the armistice between France and Austria:

The great neutral Powers exchanged communications, with the object of offering their meditation to the belligerents, whose first act was to be an armistice; but the endeavor to bring about this result was not successful until some days ago, when the French fleet was about to begin hostilities against Venice, and a new conflict before Verona was imminent. The Emperor of France, faithful to his sentiments of moderation, and anxious to prevent the useless effusion of blood, did not hesitate to assure himself whether the disposition of the Emperor of Austria was conformable to his own. It was a sacred duty for the two Emperors immediately to suspend hostilities, which mediation could render objectless. The Emperor of Austria having shown similar intentions, the armistice was concluded."

At the interview between the two Emperors at Villa Franca, the Emperor of Austria was accompanied by Gens. Hess, Gramme, Kellner, Kollonstein, Roming, Schlitter, and others of his staff.

The Emperor Napoleon has issued the following order of the day:

VALLEGIO, July 10, 1859.

"Soldiers: An armistice was concluded, on the 8th inst., between the belligerent parties to extend to the 15th of August. This truce will permit you to rest after your glorious labors, and to recover, if necessary, new strength to conclude the work which you have so gloriously inaugurated by your courage and resolution. I am about to return to Paris, and shall leave the provisional command of the army to Marshal Vaillant. But as soon as the hour of combat will have been struck you will see me again in your midst, to partake of your dangers.

NAPOLEON."

The Vienna Gazette says of the armistice that an autograph letter addressed by the Emperor Napoleon to the Emperor of Austria led to the negotiations, the result of which was a five week's armistice.

Count Cavour had again left Turin for the head quarters of the allied armies.

The gunboats designed for the bombardment of Peschiera have been launched on the Lake de Garda.

The Times Paris correspondent says the typhus fever raged in both the camps in Italy, and that ten or eleven thousand were attacked with it in the allied army.

It is said that Napoleon's plan for revolutionizing Hungary and Transylvania was disapproved by the Russians.

THE PEACE.

The following is a copy of the telegram from Napoleon to the Empress Eugenie, announcing that peace had been concluded upon.

"VALLEGIO, July 11.—A treaty of peace has been signed between the Emperor of Austria and myself, on the following basis: The Italian Confederacy is to be under the honorary Presidency of the Pope. The Emperor of Austria concedes his right in Lombardy to the Emperor of the French, who transfers them to the King of Sardinia. The Emperor of Austria preserves Venice, but she will form an integral part of the Italian Confederation. NAPOLEON."

The dispatch of the Emperor announcing the conclusion of peace, was bulletined in Paris on the 12th, when the French funds immediately rose two and a half per cent.

AN AUSTRIAN DETACHMENT TAKEN PRISONERS BY A RAILWAY ENGINEER.—Among the many lighter passages of the war with which the Parisians amuse themselves, we find in the sport the story of the capture of a detachment of Austrians who were taken prisoners by the engineer of the railway. It appears that the Austrians were en route for Peschierra to reinforce Gen. Urban, when the engineer, whose sympathies were naturally on the Italian side, "switched off," and conveyed the Tutonic heroes into the middle of the allied camp. Here they were politely escorted from the railway carriages by the French soldiers, who, with that amiable politeness for which the nation is distinguished, saluted their enemies with "All those who are going to France will please change cars!" The feelings of the Austrians, at finding themselves taken prisoners in so ignoble a manner, may be imagined but not described.

THE QUICKEST FOOT RACE ON RECORD.—Two remarkable foot races, remarks the Troy Times of the 24th, came off on the Empire Trotting Course yesterday. Two Indians, named Smith and Bennett, matched themselves to run one hundred miles within thirteen hours. During the morning the atmosphere was very sultry, and the Mercury, at 10 o'clock, stood 90 degrees in the shade. Nevertheless, both men started in the race, and ran to the twenty-eighth mile, when Bennett gave out, leaving his rival to accomplish the feat alone. The first fifty miles were run by Smith in seven hours and twenty-four seconds. He continued the race to the sixty-first milo, when his feet became so swollen that he was almost unable to walk, and he gave up the race. The time occupied by Smith in the sixty-one miles was nine hours, twenty-nine minutes, and thirty-nine seconds, the quickest, for the distance, on record.

Heavy Decline in Grain.

The following from the Chicago (Ill.) Press, in relation to speculation in wheat, was written previous to the arrival of the news of the armistice between France and Austria:—"At no period in the history of the grain trade of our city has the wheat market undergone such sudden fluctuations as have occurred during the past eight or ten weeks; and in no previous year has there been as much money lost on the same amount of wheat. On the 12th of April last standard spring wheat sold at 90 cents in store. Shortly after this date the European war broke out, and breadstuffs all over the world advanced, so that on the 1st of May the above grade sold at $1a1.05—daily advancing till the 16th, when it reached $1.30. Since that date its course has been steadily and alarmingly downward. On the 1st of June it was $1.15; on the 1st of July 92 cents, and yesterday it closed dull at 56 cents—a decline of 74 cents per bushel in sixty-two days! We give its downward course in the following table:

May 16	$1 30a —	June 20	94a96c.
May 23	1 12a1 20	June 27	92a98c.
May 30	1 19a1 17	July 2	89a91c.
June 6	1 09a1 11	July 9	65a89c.
June 13	1 05a1 08	July 16	56a62c.

At Milwaukee the decline has been equally great. On the 16th of May last, No. 1, spring sold at about $1 45, while on Saturday last it sold at 70 cents. This altogether outstrips the decline of 1857, which has hitherto been quoted as "the sudden decline," in that year standard spring wheat rose on the 3d of July to $1.30 f. o. b., and fell to 56c. in store on the 24 of November following—a heavier but a more gradual fall.

Battles of the Revolution.

A correspondent of the Norfolk Herald has taken the pains to compile the following table, showing the comparative losses of life sustained in the battles of the revolution. He says he may have made a few trifling errors, but that the statistics are mainly correct. The table should be preserved for future reference:

Editorial Duels in New Orleans.

Gentlemen who wield the editorial pen in New Orleans must also accustom themselves to the use of the pistol. At least, many of them have been called upon to exhibit their expertness with the latter weapon as well as the former.—The editors of the Crescent have frequently been called to the field of honor. In 1851 or '52 Mr. Frost, editor of that paper, was shot through the body and fell dead in a duel with Dr. Hunt, a distinguished physician of New Orleans.—Mr. Maddox, the proprietor of the Crescent at the time of Frost's death, had killed his man in a duel. The successor of Mr. Frost in the editorship of the Crescent was a young man named Carroll, who in a short time was called upon to fight two duels, soon after which he died peacefully in his bed. Mr. Nixon, a subsequent editor, fought a gentleman and wounded him in the leg, laming him for life. After this, Mr. Gibbons, local editor of the Crescent, fought two duels, in one of which he was severely wounded. Lumsden, of the Picayune, at one time shot off a brother editor's thumb; Judge Alexander Walker, of the Delta, and Hugh Kennedy, of the True Delta, fought and both escaped alive.—Maginnis, of the True Delta, fought with Carroll, of the Crescent; and Breckenridge, of the Courier, was, a year or two ago, very severely wounded in the leg in a duel. The effect of all this has been to exclude from the press of New Orleans much of the vulgar personality and blackguardism which unfortunately characterize journalism in some other parts of the country. A malignant scribbler will generally be more circumspect when he is aware that, in all probability, the future soundness of his body depends upon his use of prudent and temperate language.

QUEER—VERY QUEER!—The other day a young lady, near Zanesville, fell six inches from a door step, and broke her neck. In St. Louis, a man dropped from a fourth story, and lighting upon an awning, escaped with a severe injury to his shoulder. In Buffalo, a lady made an involuntary decent from a second story window, but was saved from the least hurt, by her crinoline, on the parachute principle. Thus far the Pittsburgh Gazette, to which we may add that Baldwin, the New York forger, jumped from the cars while the train was going forty miles an hour, and escaped, while a plain countryman, "up in Pennsylvania," not long since choked to death on a bit of meat he was eating at dinner. The lightning will strike one man dead and leave another unhurt. In a railroad accident, one man will be killed lying down on one seat, while his wife, in the next, won't even spoil her bonnet. In the river or at sea-bathing place, a man who can swim will sometimes drown, while a woman who cannot swim escapes with life! Very queer, indeed—but there's a main spring, after all.

FATHER WITH THREE DOZEN CHILDREN.—At Markheidenfelt, a village situated on the river Main, in Bavaria, there lives a man sixty-eight years of age, named Johannes Schlottenbeck.—He is a master chimney-sweep, a vocation more honorable in Germany than in this country, and for half a century has given personal attention to his business. He is now living with his third wife, and on the 16th of June last his thirty-sixth child was christened in the parish church. By his first consort he had eighteen children—of whom half are girls, and one half boys. A few families so prolific would supply a nation with all the soldiery required for its defence, and laborers to perform its necessary agriculture and manufacturing. There is a vitality left in the old Teutonic stock yet, enabling it to sprout so abundantly. The French, and even the Irish, cannot come up with it.

DEAR SPORT.—The Western Reserve Chronicle, at Warren, Ohio, states that, on the Fourth of July, the people of that town purchased an old mill, which had long been an eyesore, on the opposite side of the river, and set fire to it in order to celebrate the day by giving the fire companies an opportunity to try their efficiency in extinguishing it: but, just as they got fairly at it, the wind blew the burning shingles over on the town, setting fire to the Methodist Church, as well as six or seven other buildings, at the same time, rendering the utmost exertions of the citizens necessary to save the town from destruction.

THE PULPIT AND THE MASSES.—The Christian Intelligencer asks if the pulpit of this day reaches the masses of people, and fears it does not. We quote: "Upon luxurious couches surrounded by gilding and carvery, on a pleasant Sunday, when not too hot or cold, to wet or dry, a gayly-dressed multitude listen sleepily, first to soft music behind them, and then to the musical voice before them; and when the hour and a half is spent, the rustling silks move out to the sound of the organ, and the pulpit remains a cold, unmeaning piece of mummery. Outside, the multitude rush by, unheeding and unheeded. There is no pulpit for them. Vice and misery, in ten thousand forms, are rioting, and stifling, and destroying: cruelty and oppression are rampant amidst our churches, and the groans of the victims mingle with the church bells. Does the pulpit reach the masses? That is something for us to answer as Christians.—For if it does not, the masses will reach, and overturn the pulpit."

FINAL DECISION OF A GREAT RAILROAD SUIT.—Seven years ago Mrs. Shaw, of Boston, commenced a suit against the Boston and Worcester Railroad Company for killing her husband. Three trials have been had and three verdicts rendered—$15,000, $18,000 and $22,000—each progressing in amount to correspond with the accrued interest and expenses. Few cases, anywhere, have ever been contested more obstinately, and the finest legal talent in the State was employed on both sides. Last week the Supreme Court denied the motion for a new trial, applied for by the defendants, and the Railroad Company will now have to pay about $30,000, costs included. They were the losers by setting aside the first verdict. Obstinacy does not always pay, and the price of husbands in Massachusetts is tolerably high.

A FAMILY SAVED BY A CAT.—One night last week, a fire broke out in the basement of the house of Mr. Allen, at Hamilton, C. W. The family had retired to rest and were sound asleep. About midnight, a cat which belonged to the house, ran into the room, and was so frightened at the flames below stairs that it jumped about the room, and in the course of its antics it crossed Mr. Allen's face, thus awakening him. As soon as he awoke he observed the room full of smoke, and aroused his wife and children.—Finding it impossible to go down stairs, or even leave the bedroom without danger of suffocation, they were obliged to jump out of the window. Mrs. A. was so severely injured by the fall that her recovery is doubtful. Mr. Allen and the children escaped without much injury. The house was entirely destroyed.

KILLED BY THE CARS.—On Wednesday night, week, about eleven o'clock, the fast line coming west on the Pennsylvania Railroad, when passing one of the mountain stations, ran over and killed a drover, who was on the train going east. The name of the deceased was Henderson; he was on his way east from his home in Indiana with a drove. It is supposed that he was caught in the darkness between the two trains, and not being able to make his escape, was knocked down by the advancing train.

A LAKE OF BLOOD.—Dr. Dick estimates the number of those who have perished directly or indirectly by war at 14,000,000,000. Elihu Burritt, the learned blacksmith, has taken the estimates of Dr. Dick, and estimating the average quantity of blood in a common sized person, states that the blood in the veins of those fourteen thousand millions, would fill a circular lake of more than seventeen miles in circumference, and ten feet deep, in which all the navies of the world might float.

A GREAT FALL OF ROCKS.—At Rondout, N. Y., on the 18th inst., a terrific crash was heard in the lower part of the village, the sound coming from a north-east direction, and resembling thunder. It appears that several thousand tuns of huge rocks had fallen from an adjoining cliff. A lady seeing the imminent danger of her child, who was playing in the garden, ran to her rescue. A huge rock rushed between them, rolling the child over by the concussion of the passing stone but doing no other harm.

"PIZEN."—A couple of females at Cayuga, Canada West, went into the forest to cut material for hoops, being resolved to keep up the prevailing fashion. They selected the stem of the "poison ivy," and after wearing the hoops a few days, were so dangerously affected as to require medical treatment. We have supposed hoops might be a "pizen" to the men, but this is the first time we have heard of their producing an effect on females.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—What is fame? What fortune? Nicholas Longworth, the "Crœsus" of Cincinnati, worth in money $5,000,000 to $6,000,000, while sitting the other day on the steps of a house, with his hat between his knees, waiting for a friend, was the recipient of twenty-five cents from a passing gentlemen, who mistook him for a beggear.

HOTTEST YET.—A cotemporary says: "This is really hot weather. A lady started to town the other day with a basket of eggs and a pan of butter. When she arrived in town, her basket was full of half-grown chickens, and there was nothing in her pan but a little sour milk, a lock of red hair, and a quantity of rock salt."

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he hopes by strict attention to business to merit a liberal share of public patronage. He will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a call.

I have just received a stock of No. 1 French Brandy for medicinal purposes.

Also a large stock of excellent Wines, for medicinal purposes, together with a lot of the best old Rye Whiskey to be found in the country.

LOCAL ITEMS.

NEW DIVISIONS OF THE S. OF T.—On Saturday morning last, D. D. G. W. P., Benj. F. Rose, assisted by Bros. M. Clabaugh, W. C. M'Cormick, Chas. R. M'Cree, D. M. Green, J. Delo, J. W. Clabaugh, J. Renner, and J. R. Finley, opened Divisions of the Sons of Temperance at Birmingham and Tyrone City, the former in the morning and the latter in the afternoon. After the Birmingham Division had been formally instituted, the following officers, were elected and duly installed by the D. D. G. W. P.:

P. W. P.—John R. Thompson. W. P.—Geo T. Calderwood. W. A.—Rowan Clark. R. S.—James C. Clark. A. R. S.—Oscar Beaty. F. S.—Geo. W. Owens. T.—D. G. Owens. C.—Samuel Nowling. A. C.—A. M. Graffius. I. S.—Flavil Clark. O. S.—D. E. Robeson.

Tyrone City Division elected the following officers, who were duly installed:—

P. W. P.—F. M. Bell. W. P.—D. M'Kinney. W. A.—John H. Patterson. R. S.—Thos. C. Heachey. A. R. S.—J. M. Calderwood. F. S.—Caleb Guyer. T.—John Marks. C.—J. M'Kinney. A. C.—Henry Honchey. I. S.—Edward Hill. O. S.—Chas. Merryman. Chaplain—John D. Steward.

Both Divisions have opened under very favorable auspices, and we expect ere long to hear that they have worked a great moral reformation in their different localities. The members are said to be men of the right stamp to carry on the work, and we hope they may find the cause prospering in their hands. The indiscriminate licensing of places for the sale of intoxicating liquors —(we should not say liquor—as the stuff now manufactured and sold is a libel on the name—it should be labelled poison)—and the consequent increase of drunkenness, has aroused the temperance people of this section of the country to a sense of their duty. They are now going to work, and although their works can not yet be seen they will certainly shortly be felt.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC NIC.—On Wednesday morning last, the officers, teachers, scholars and friends of the Methodist Sunday school of this place, met at the school room at 9 o'clock in the morning and proceeded from thence to the grove adjoining West Ward. There was a large turn out of old and young, and the day promised to be one of much mirth and pleasure. About noon, however, while the ladies were spreading out the dainties provided for the occasion, the sound of distant thunder broke upon the ears of the assembled multitude, and a few drops of falling rain warned them of the approach of a shower. The warning was unheeded, and the ladies continued to busy themselves in spreading the tables. When this part of the programme had been concluded and all were seated around the festal boards, the flood gates of Heaven appeared to have been suddenly opened and the rain descended in torrents. While it was anything but pleasant to be compelled to stand out and take it, it was really amusing to witness the wilting down of linen coats and ladies dresses generally, and the various shapes into which stiffy starched hoods and sunbonnets were almost instantly converted. One could not laugh at the other, however, and all took it good-humoredly. After the shower had passed over, most of the party returned to town, changed garments, and again repaired to the grove, where the afternoon was spent in a most delightful manner, the cooling off received appearing to have added zest to the enjoyments of the occasion rather than detracting therefrom. The shower served to cool the air somewhat, and all kinds of exercises could be indulged in without inducing fatigue. The company returned to town about six o'clock in the evening.

☞ The New York Tribune of Thursday last contains the following, which will no doubt be news to many persons in this locality. The road referred to is the Tyrone and Lock Haven Railroad. Whether this transaction had anything to do with bringing about the present depressed condition of the financial affairs of the Central Bank, we cannot say. The Tribune says:

"The railroad which has been alluded to as having suffered a loss of $150,000 of its bonds, by falling into bad hands here, is a road leading from Hollidaysburg, Pa., to the Sunbury and Erie road. The parties interested in this road and in the Central Bank of Hollidaysburg are the same, and the Central Bank became embarrassed by the extension of its aid to the road. In order to relieve it, the officers of the road came here to endeavor to negotiate some of its bonds. They fell into the hands of men much shrewder than themselves, and parted with $150,000 of the bonds for $200,000 of the notes of the Southern Bank of Georgia, a concern which has had a black mark against it for some time in the respectable Bank Note Reporters.—After discovering that the notes were worthless, the road officers endeavored to regain their bonds, but have not yet been able to discover their whereabouts."

For some time past, the Bellefonte papers have been discussing the propriety of circulating the notes of the Georgia bank, with which the contractors and laborers on the road referred to were being paid off. From the above it would appear that those opposing the circulation of money so far from home were in the right and their fears as to the solvency of the bank well grounded.

REMOVAL.—Our friend, Harry Tuch, has removed his store to the new building erected by C. Jaggard, on Main street, where he has received a large addition to his already extensive assortment of gentlemen's clothing. Harry is one of the cleverest salesmen in the town and keeps the largest and best assortment of ready-made clothing and gents furnishing goods to be found in any establishment of the kind in the country. Having now a much larger room than heretofore, he has made a corresponding addition to his stock and we have no doubt will receive a more extensive patronage.

PERQUIPILES.—Within the past month, two of these exceedingly rare animals have been captured in this county—one at an ore bank near Hollidaysburg and the other on the branch railroad. And one in the streets of Clearfield, Clearfield county. It is a long time since we have heard of one being found in the most secluded places in our mountains, consequently their approach of the haunts of man occurs a little singular.

THE SOAP MAN.—Prof. Gardner, the world-renowned New England soap man, made his appearance in our town on Monday afternoon last, and after ringing his gong through the principal streets, and exciting the curiosity of men, women and children, collected a large crowd in front of the Post Office in the evening, to whom he delivered one of his inimitable lectures, abounding in eloquent flights of fancy, sparkling wit, sublime pathos, excellent poetry, side-splitting anecdotes and all ending in a proof of the extraordinary virtues of his saponaceous compound—Gardner's Unrivalled New England Soap—in removing tar, paint, oil and grease from silk, woolen, cotton or linen goods, removing tan, freckles, pimples and all eruptions from the skin, softening the beard, cleansing the teeth, beautifying the hair, purifying the breath, and ameliorating the condition of mankind in every imaginable way from the removal of the smallest speck on skin or clothes down to washing him ashore in case he should be wrecked, with a cake of this inestimable soap in his pocket.—The Prof. carries with him the very best testimonials, as to the superior qualities of his soap, from the most distinguished men in the country, also two beautiful medals awarded by the London and Paris Exhibitions of the Industry of all Nations—the latter presented in person by the Emperor. This is certainly sufficient to convince all that the soap is no humbug, and we have yet to hear it so pronounced by those who have tried it. From the rapid manner in which the quarters were passed up and the soap passed down we think the Prof. talked to some advantage to himself. Should he again visit us, we have no doubt he will draw a much larger audience reap a heavier reward, as neither he or his soap ever become unpopular.

ROW IN A BARBER SHOP.—On Monday evening last, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, we were startled by the sound of crashing window glass, repeated at intervals and accompanied by loud yelling, proceeding from the neighborhood of Shorter's barber shop, next door to the Bank. On inquiring into the cause of the disturbance, we ascertained that young man named McGlaughlin, who had been imbibing freely, had entered the shop and commenced imposing upon a boy who was in attendance, and even went so far as to pick up a loaded gun, fortunately uncapped, and attempted to shoot the boy. In the scuffle which ensued the boy succeeded in wresting the gun from the hands of his assailant and dealt him a couple of blows over the head with the butt of it and finally got McG. outside of the shop, whereupon he turned, and picking up a stool, demolished the window at a couple of blows, and again effected an entrance through it into the shop, the boy in the meantime making his exit through a back window. Once in, he seized a stool and proceeded to smash up a couple of large mirrors and other breakable materials and succeeded admirably. Having satiated his destructive propensities inside, he came out by the door where he was met by the boy, who, armed with a stool, dealt him a blow over the head which settled his "camomile" for the time being, and caused a visit to the surgeon's office, to get his scalp sewed up, indispensably necessary. Mr. Shorter had McG. arrested on Tuesday and on Wednesday morning he was conveyed to the "institution" "over the hill" to await his trial at the next Court.

YOUNG MAN PAY ATTENTION.—Don't be a loafer—don't call yourself a loafer—don't keep loafers company—don't hang about loafing places. Better work hard for nothing and board yourself, that sit around day after day, or stand around corners with your hands in your pockets. Better for your own mind—better for your own health—better for your own prospects.—Bustle about if you mean to have anything to bustle about for. Many a poor physician has obtained a real patient by riding hard to attend an imaginary one. A quire of blank paper, tied up with red tape, carried under a lawyer's arm may procure him his first case and make his fortune. Such is the world; to him that hath shall be given. Quit droning and complaining, keep busy, and mind your chances.

NEW MILITARY COMPANY.—A new military company, to be styled the Keystone Fencibles, is about being formed in this place. A preliminary meeting was held a few evenings since, and some 20 names placed upon the list of members. Another meeting will be held this (Thursday) evening, in Shultz's Hall, at which all the members are requested to be present, and those wishing to join the company are cordially invited to attend. We wish the new company prosperity. There are men enough in this place to form half a dozen good companies. The more companies there are in a place or county, the better it is for each. Opposition and rivalry, properly conducted, in military affairs as well as others, leads to perfection.

ITEMS.—The Grand Division of Sons of Temperance held a session in this place yesterday. A temperance mass meeting was held in the Methodist Church this evening.

The pic nic excursion of Winnebago Tribe, I. O. of R. M., to Spruce Creek, came off yesterday. Hope they enjoyed a pleasant time of it.

The Altoona Guards have rented the room adjoining our office to be used as an armory.

A fracas came off in front of the "Logan House" yesterday. Cause—a profitic one of such scenes—a woman. No lives lost, and the wounded considered convalescent.

COUNTY FAIR.—We notice large posters, printed in Philadelphia, posted up in a few places around town, stating that a County Fair will be held in Hollidaysburg on the 4th, 5th and 6th of October, 1859. Query—How many more people will be attracted to the Fair by those one hundred mammoth posters, than would have attended, had several hundred posters of a respectable size (printed at one of the county offices, thereby costing less) been properly distributed throughout the county?

BRIGADIER GENERAL.—Our next door neighbor, down stairs, Maj. H. Wehn, is, we understand, a candidate for the above office, made vacant by the election of Gen. Bell to the position of Major General of this Division. Maj. W. understands the tactics and would make an excellent officer.

SURPRISE CARS FREE OF EXPENSE.—It is said that it is the intention of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad to make the sleeping cars free for first class passengers, instead of, as now, charging fifty cents extra for a berth. If this is true, no doubt our other roads will do the same.—Such bids for the public patronage are legitimate enough, and the more we see of them, the more marked will be the attention of the public carriers to passengers' comforts, and the more active their energies for achieving a perfect system of railroad management.

THE CONCERT.—The Welsh Miner's Club Concert, advertised to come off at Shultz's Hall, on Thursday evening last, proved a failure, there being only some half-dozen of persons in attendance. Although they have now met with two failures in this place, we understand that they are determined not to give it up, but hope ere long to perfect an arrangement by which they can secure an audience and prove to the people that they are worthy of patronage.

RETURNED.—Harry Bell has just returned from the city with a large supply of the freshest and best groceries ever brought to the town, and he intends to sell them as cheap as any other establishment in the place. Call around and examine his stock.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—Spurious "fives" on the Allegheny Bank of Pittsburgh are in circulation. The genuine "fives" of this Bank have a view of the steamer "Allegheny" passing the junction of the two rivers, a locomotive on the right end, and a female head on the left.

☞ Joseph Walker, a printer, who worked a considerable length of time in the Whig office, Hollidaysburg, a year or two since, died in Baltimore a few days ago.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, July 26th, 1859.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The July term of our county Court, commenced on Monday, Judge Taylor, presiding. Very little busines has been done up to the present writing. The attendance of the country folks is very fair, considering that this is a very busy season with them. We shall endeavor to give the proceedings of this week in our next.

On last evening, (Monday) the Rev. George Junkin, of Virginia, delivered a lecture to our citizens in the Court House. The subject of the lecture was: "The bearings of Mechanical Industry upon National Wealth." He is a very able and eloquent speaker, and well informed upon the subjects pertaining to all branches of Political Economy. He was listened to by a very large and appreciated audience.

On last Thursday evening, the Welsh Choir connected with the Rechabite Church of Johnstown, gave a concert of sacred music, in the Court House in this place. We regret to say that they did not meet with that encouragement which they deserved—the audience was very slim. They rendered entire satisfaction to all who listened to them.

We are very sorry to announce the sudden death of one of our citizens, Daniel H. Hofius, Esq. On last evening he was sitting on the front porch of the Exchange Hotel, listening to a friend, who was sitting by his side, reading the latest news. His friend noticed him coughing and apparently choking, and upon turning round found that he was dying. In a very few minutes he was a corpse. The deceased was one of the ablest and most talented members of our bar; indeed he had few equals as a criminal lawyer in this section of the State. His unexpected death has cast quite a gloom over our community, as he was highly esteemed by all his fellow-citizens.

On to-morrow evening, (Wednesday) H. G. Rovers, will deliver a lecture to our citizens on the "Geology of the Alps and Volcanic regions of Italy." W.

ITALY AND THE WAR OF 1859.

Giving a history of the causes of the War, with Biographical Sketches and finely engraved Portraits of its Heroes, together with the official accounts of the Battles of Montebello, Palestro, Magenta, etc., etc., and Maps of Italy, Austria, and all the adjacent Countries, by MADAME JULIE DE MARGUERITTES, with an introduction by Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, handsomely bound in one volume, 12mo. cloth. Price $1.25 Published by G. G. EVANS, 439 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

"ITALY AND THE WAR OF 1859."—This handsome volume, written by Madame Julie de Marguerittes, and suitably illustrated with Maps and Portraits, has just been published by G. G. Evans (the original Gift Book Publisher) of Philadelphia, at the low price of $1.25, and is as well timed as it is well executed. The design is to show Italy in her PAST and PRESENT, so that the reader may understand on what ground she bases her expectancy of a glorious Future, with this view the author, who has travelled largely through Europe, and has resided for a considerable period in Milan, with visits to the other great cities of Italy, describes places with which she is acquainted, and personages whom she intimately knew. The statistics of the various States now engaged in hostilities are given, with biographical sketches of the Sovereigns generally, and Statesmen, whom the war has thrown into prominency. A great deal of personal anecdote is introduced which very much adds to the spirit and acceptability of the work. The causes of the war are fully and fairly developed, and there is appended an authentic account of the war itself up to the present time, including the official reports of the various battles, and the chivalrous exploits of General Garibaldi, the gallant Guerrilla leader.

We notice that in an introduction to the work, Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, Literary and Foreign Editor of "The Press," (Philadelphia) very warmly eulogizes its designs and execution.

A copy of the Book, and a handsome present, will be sent by mail, post-paid, upon receipt of $1.25 for the book, and 21 cents for postage.

A new Classified Catalogue of Books and Gifts, with inducements to Agents, will be sent free, on application.

LECTURES FOR THE PEOPLE. By Rev. Hugh Spurgeon Brown, of the Myrtle Street Chapel, Liverpool. First Series. With a Biographical Introduction by Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie. Published under special arrangement with the Author. One volume, 12mo., cloth, with a Steel Portrait. Price $1.00.

OPINION OF THE ENGLISH PRESS.—"We have read Mr. H. S. Brown's "Lectures" with much satisfaction. Mr. Brown knows how to speak to "the people." He has almost every qualification for it, if we may judge from his printed addresses. There is no maudlin sentimentality about him; but all is healthful as the breeze on the hill. There is no clap-trap; he is both too honest and too earnest for that.—There is neither a Pharisaic scorn of vice, nor any effeminate apologizing for it, but a wise Christian man's righteous hatred of it, who knows how to look on those who are sin-degraded as his brethren. He speaks to the people almost as one of themselves, only from a higher level; and though he uses their daily phrases, yet he does not thereby pander to vulgarity. He has a happy acquaintance with our homely common sense proverbs, and employs them tellingly. There is no affectation of extraordinary "concern for the poor" or their "souls," but there is that real manly concern which can afford to dispense with profession, and to express itself chiefly in calm but brave and sensibly earnest endeavors. The proverb, "Much cry and little wool," you may reverse in his case. His true desire to benefit the people is partly shown by the pains with which he collects and prepares the statistics of vice, poverty, disease, &c., in order that his well-marshalled facts may preach to the understanding. The genuineness of his earnestness is evinced by the cheerfulness with which it toils along the highway of common sense. He has no recourse to reckless, undiscriminating charges, and is too strong for exaggeration. Truth is enough for him; would that this were no distinction! While he faithfully touches the worst vices, yet you never feel that the censor himself must have a coarse taste or prurient imagination. These Sunday afternoon lectures are not "sermons," nor intended to be. In them he grapples with acknowledged evils; but still, while opening the eyes of the people to the real nature of much of what their daily life too often is, and showing what it might be, he is never ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, nor chargeable with even seeming to let them go away with the impression that anything else, and not the kingdom of heaven, is the first thing to be sought. In Mr. Brown we have a man who, we should judge, can afford to go where any classes of God's creatures are domesticated, for he is strong, and his strength is holy."—Monthly Christian Spectator.

A copy of the book, with a splendid gift, will be sent by mail, post-paid, upon the receipt of one dollar and twenty cents.

M'LANE'S WORM SPECIFIC,

PREPARED BY FLEMING BROS.

☞ The following, from a customer, shows the demand which this great medicine has created wherever it has been introduced:

BLOSSBURG, Tioga Co. Pa., March 30, 1850.

MESSRS. FLEMING BROS.—Gentlemen:—In consequence of the great consumption of your "Worm Specific" in this place and vicinity, we have entirely exhausted our stock. We should feel obliged by your forwarding, via Corning, N. Y., 20 dozen, with your bill, on the reception of which we will remit you the money.

From the wonderful effects of said "Specific" in this neighborhood, there could be sold annually a large quantity, if to be had, (wholesale and retail) from some local agent. If you would compensate a person for trouble and expense of vending, I think I could make it to your advantage to do so.

Yours, Respectfully, WM. M. MALLORY,
Per W. B. PORTER.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine unless the signature of FLEMING BROS.

EPILEPSY, OR FALLING FITS.

We believe we can not do our readers a more important service, than by again calling their attention to that most remarkable preparation, discovered by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of Baltimore, Md., which possesses the power of alleviating and curing that horrid visitation of man—Epilepsy, or Falling Fits. In commending this preparation to our readers, we do so with a conviction that we are not degrading our columns to puff a common patent medicine, but are placing before them a discovery, which, if fully known, would probably do more to alleviate human suffering, than any invention of modern times. Dr. Hance, in asking us to notice his preparation favorably in our editorial department, has sent us for perusal a number of letters from persons who have used his Pills, and have been cured thereby. All of them speak in the most grateful and eulogistic terms. One great advantage this medicine possesses is the fact, that it can be transported through the mails, thereby affording every one an opportunity of dealing directly with the inventor, and also precluding all possibility of being imposed on by a counterfeit or spurious imitation. Dr. Hance pays the postage on his Pills to any part of the country, and will forward them by return of mail, on the receipt of a remittance. His prices are as follows: One box, $2; two do., $3; twelve do., $20. All orders for the medicine should be addressed to Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md.

HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE.

WM. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE!

The Original and Best in the World!

All others are mere imitations, and should be avoided, if you wish to escape ridicule.

GRAY, RED, or RUSTY HAIR. Dyed instantly to a beautiful and natural Brown or Black, without the least injury to the Hair or Skin.

Fifteen Medals and Diplomas have been awarded to Wm. A. Batchelor since 1836, and over 80,000 applications have been made to the hair of his patrons of his famous Dye.

WM. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE produces a color not to be distinguished from nature, and is WARRANTED not to injure in the least, however long it may be continued, and the ill effect of Bad Dyes remedied; the Hair invigorated for Life by this Splendid Dye.

Made, sold or applied (in 9 private rooms) at the Wig Factory, 233 Broadway, New York.

Sold by Druggists in Altoona, and by Druggists in all cities and towns of the United States.

☞ The Genuine has the name and address upon a steel plate engraving on four sides of each Box, of

WM. A. BATCHELOR.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor

In all cases of inflammation arising from a cold or local injury, whether it be Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, or any inflammation arising at the root of disease—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence our immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR,
and nothing else, will allay inflammation, at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR
will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Piles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR
In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

Principal Depot, 165 Chambers street, New York.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES—DR CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.—The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, which always arise from interruption of nature, inducing with certainty periodical regularity. Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious to liver health. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail by enclosing $1 to any authorized Agent.

R. B. HUTCHINGS, General Agent for the United States, 165 Chambers street, New York.
To whom all Wholesale orders should be addressed.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; Geo. A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all Druggists in the United States.

TOOTHACHE.

This disease can be cured by DR. KEYSER'S TOOTHACHE REMEDY, prepared by him in Pittsburgh, Pa., which is put up in bottles and sold at 25 cents each. It is an excellent medicine, when diluted, for spongy and tender gums, and is worth ten times its price to all who need it. Sold here by G. W. Kessler. [Dec. 9, 1858-1y.

WIGS—WIGS—WIGS.

BATCHELOR'S WIGS AND TOUPEES surpass all.—They are elegant, light, easy and durable.

Fitting to a charm—no turning up behind—no shrinking off the head; indeed, this is the only Establishment where these things are properly understood and made.

NOTICE.—ALL PERSONS KNOWING themselves indebted to the firm of Bunyan & Sanford, will please call and settle their accounts without delay, as ample time has been given. In thirty days hereafter, all accounts unsettled will be placed in the hands of a proper person for collection.

Altoona, July 28, 1859-3t. BUNYAN & SANFORD.

The undersigned feels grateful for the patronage heretofore bestowed on the firm and himself by the citizens of Altoona, and expects still to serve the public with all kinds of meat as usual. All persons failing to settle their accounts every thirty days, must not expect longer indulgence. My capital is limited, and long credits will soon place me where others are that have indulged so much credit to their ruin. MARTIN BUNYAN.

HOFFMAN'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered
STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Restlessness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there OUT ON the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the mire.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT.

Read the following Certificate to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Diseases.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubled me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me in the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realize it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN,
No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements, enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.

RED LION HOTEL,
ALTOONA, BLAIR COUNTY, PA.

This old established and popular HOTEL, located nearly opposite the place of stopping the passenger cars in Altoona, has passed into the hands of the present proprietor.—Long experience in the business warrants me in assuring the travelling public that no pains will be spared to render guests as comfortable as possible while sojourning under my roof.

The TABLE will constantly be supplied with the very best the market affords.

The BAR will be found to contain an excellent assortment of LIQUORS of all kinds, including that choice beverage LAGER BEER.

The STABLE is in charge of an excellent and experienced Ostler.

The proprietor hopes, by his long experience in the busines and the facilities at his command, to make the Red Lion, in all respects, a first class Hotel. The business of the Hotel will be under my own personal supervision. A liberal share of public patronage is kindly solicited.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.

To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England, have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $12 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and Peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is a well known fact that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place. can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton, by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY just published Gratis, the 25th Thousand.

A few words on the Natural Treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Premature Decay of the System, Impotency and Impediments to marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.
